

Lead Facilitator

Brian Ritchie

For the past twenty years, Brian Ritchie has served as a coach and advisor for student groups and business leaders across the United States. A high energy presenter, Brian specializes on sharing valuable insights into teambuilding, positive thinking, and organizational development. His real world experience as a corporate manager and a non-profit administrator provide a variety of experiences and stories that make learning fun. He holds a Bachelor's Degree in Public Relations and a Masters Degree in Organizational Communication. In addition to his focus on building teams and people, Brian is dedicated to helping his community. He is a Kiwanian, serves on the board of directors for the Ronald McDonald House, and is active with his church. Brian resides in Columbus, Ohio with his wife, Katherine, and children, Jack, Brooke, and Alex.
